SPEAKERS

Jerry Nickelsburg, Director, UCLA Anderson Forecast

"What Should You Expect from the U.S. Economy in 2019 and 2020? It's Probably Not What You Think"

Jerry Nickelsburg joined the UCLA Anderson School of Management and The Anderson Forecast in 2006, where he plays a key role in the economic modeling and forecasting of the U.S. and California economies. He is a regular presenter at Economic Conferences and is cited in the national media including the Financial Times, Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Los Angeles Times, and Reuters.

Carl DeMaio, Chairman, Reform California

"Yes on Proposition 6, Repeal the Gas Tax"

Carl DeMaio is Chairman of Reform California, a political action committee that advocates for tax and fiscal reform. Carl also hosts a radio show on KOGO-AM 600, where he discusses policy issues in California. Carl was a member of the San Diego City Council from 2008 to 2012, and has founded and sold multiple business entities.

Loren Kaye, President, Foundation for Commerce and Education

"No on Proposition 6, Keep the Gas Tax"

Loren has been President of the Foundation for Commerce and Education since 2006, and was appointed to the state's Little Hoover Commission. He served in senior positions for Governors Pete Wilson and George Deukmejian, including Cabinet Secretary to the Governor and Undersecretary of the California Trade and Commerce Agency.

Dr. Mark Schniepp, Director, California Economic Forecast

"Ventura County's Economic Progress and the Sustainability of L.A. County's Building Boom"

Dr. Schniepp provides economic forecasts for Caltrans, Kaiser Permanente, Blue Shield, the California Association of Realtors, and the SoCal Association of Governments, as well as Ventura, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Orange, and San Diego Counties. He has been a consulting economist to many private companies including the Irvine Company, Newhall Land, and Exxon Mobil.
